Injection molding is a manufacturing process for the fabrication of plastic parts. Injection molding process, defect, equipment, and material information.

Injection molding is a method to obtain molded products by injecting plastic materials molten by heat into a mold, and then cooling and solidifying them. Injection molding is a manufacturing process commonly used for many of the plastic parts that we use in every-day life are injection molded.

EAS Change Systems provides complete solutions for decreasing production time and increasing productivity in your plastic injection molding process. The injection machine is a machine that melt plasticize the molding material inside the heating cylinder and inject this into the mold tool to create the molded.

Injection Moulding (or Molding to use the US spelling), along with extrusion ranks as one of the prime processes for producing plastics articles. It is a fast process. In injection molding material is fed through a hopper into an extruder, where a reciprocating screw mixes and melts the material then injects it into a mold. A little background: I sat down with a group from a major medical manufacturer to discuss injection molding medical process validations and the.
