

Everyone wants their family to eat healthy food and a back yard garden is the way to go. But with today's big houses and tiny yards, often there is no room for a traditionally sized garden. Most families are too busy to take on a project that requires hours of weeding every week nor do they have the time to research planting dates and plant varieties. "No Green Thumb Required" is a new approach to home gardening that combines ancient methods of intensive gardening with the latest research in soil science, natural fertilizers, and organic gardening techniques. Best of all, it's easy! By building raised beds and filling them with weedless soil, you eliminate the hassle. All you do is plant seeds and water as needed. This book will take you through the steps of how you and your family can plan, install and manage your own organic garden. Start a new tradition in your family, help your kids learn about nature, and start eating, safe, fresh, healthy vegetables, all year long!
