

REVISED (11/6/2013) I found that I had published a rough draft of the book. It is now cleaned up and should be easier to follow. Thank you to all of my customers!!! We all love our dogs and want to give them the best food that we can find for them. Sometimes that can be challenging for various reasons. The labels on the bags can be confusing and sometimes downright deceiving. If you are like me you want them to have real foods that are good for them and tasty. This book is made up of 45 recipes for tasty treats that your dogs will love and want more. Whether you use treats for training or just to make them happy, you are bound to find something that they will love. Dog treats are a great way to show your buddy how much you love them. Making them yourself just adds another level to it. It also allows you to watch what they are eating and what is in what they are consuming. Most of these recipes are edible by humans and are made from all human quality foods. There are a few that are even direct adaptations from human recipes. They like humans food, why not make teats they will like just as much?
